

Welcome back. I hope that you enjoyed Module 1, and that you've had a chance to practise some of the techniques that we learnt last time. This time, as you know, we're focusing on punctuation. It is just as important – in some ways more so – because people do judge you based on your ability to put an apostrophe in the right place. So, let's see what it's all about.