

Well done, and thank you for completing the courses. I hope you've enjoyed them, and that you've found them practical. Don't forget to download my handy grammar guide, and do let me know what you thought of the courses, either through the feedback form or by dropping me an email. And I hope you'll consider doing some of my other courses on effective legal drafting, client-focused legal writing or writing with impact. Many thanks.